MAKING THE MOST OF THE MAGIC

So you've booked
Mark Daniel
to perform at your event. How do you make the most of the entertainment? Its simple! We've provided you with a few tips below...

Avoid letting items such as balloons, party poppers and horns loose before the show.
They can distract the kids and hitting each other over the head with balloons takes the attention away from the show.

Although we will do our utmost to take the work off your hands, we do insist on kids being supervised at all times during the party. Usually one adult for every ten children, but please do invite the adults to stay and join in the fun, there's prizes for all ages!

Please don't allow children to touch any of the magic or electrical equipment. If there is a stage the children should be kept off it for their own safety except if chosen to help in the show.

Please don't hand out food, drinks or sweets during the magic show.

To enable the younger children to get the best possible view, we ask that the older ones sit at the back. Its usually better for the audience to be sat on the floor as chairs can tip in the excitement and we don't want any tears!

Balloons and other items will be handed out as prizes to the children who help on stage or win competitions. Whilst these are deemed safe for children over 3, caution should still be taken as they can be choking hazards.
